

To whom it may concern,

I am pleased to recommend Johnston, Moore & Weston, a respected law firm located in Huntsville, Alabama. It provides comprehensive legal representation to individuals, families, and businesses across a wide range of practice areas, allowing it to address diverse legal needs while maintaining a strong commitment to personalized service and effective advocacy.

Johnston, Moore & Weston offers services in personal injury, business and corporate law, family law, bankruptcy, estate planning and probate, workers' compensation, insurance claims, Social Security disability, criminal defense, real estate, landlord and tenant matters, and mold litigation. It also handles business disputes, contract matters, wrongful death claims, and other complex civil litigation, providing clients with experienced legal guidance across a wide range of circumstances.

A particular strength of Johnston, Moore & Weston, is its knowledgeable and dedicated team of attorneys. Its professionals bring extensive experience across multiple areas of law and work closely with clients to understand their circumstances, explain their options, and develop appropriate legal strategies. The team's professionalism, responsiveness, and commitment to personalized representation demonstrate its dedication to protecting clients' interests.

I highly recommend Johnston, Moore & Weston. It combines legal experience with comprehensive services and a dedicated team committed to pursuing effective outcomes, making it a valuable legal resource throughout North Alabama.

Sincerely,

Jason Fish
Strategic-Partner
Schooley Mitchell